MACLEAN'S GUIDE

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

SATURDAY EVENING, JAN. 10, 1880.

CONSOLS in London yesterday were unchanged at 97¼. French Rentes at 116½, Enfaced Rupee Paper at 77½ and 85½ for Fours and Fours-and-a-half respectively.

In the General Produce markets, as also in Seeds and Wheat, Reuter reports no change although private telegrams advise a fall of 1s. per quarter in Bombay Linseed, to arrive.

Reuter gives the Manchester Piece Goods market as firm, quotations all the same as on Tuesday last, but from other sources a slightly weaker tone is reported with sellers more willing to do business.

Cotton in Liverpool yesterday closed quiet, Surats steady, prices unchanged, sales 8,000 bales, of which 700 were Surats; and to-day's market closed with supplies freely offered, sales 10,000 bales, of which 1,000 were Surats, Mid. Orleans 1-16d. lower, Surats unchanged. To arrive, however, Reuter reports business in Good Omras. with the F. G. F. clause at 6¼d., a decline of 1-16d., and fully ¼d. per lb. under first cost here exclusive of commission. In New York ready Mid. Uplands remains at 12 13-16 cents, but April shipment yesterday receded from 13·49 to 13·48 and to-day to 13·33 cents per lb. A decided downward tendency is thus manifested, both in Liverpool and New York, and looking to the figures it is difficult to say it is not justified. A glance at the subjoined comparison of the statistical position shows, that notwithstanding spinners having taken largely in excess of their consumption during the past three weeks, the Liverpool stock has increased to 524,000 bales; whilst the scale on which the American receipts continue renders a 5½ million crop a certainty, and 5½ millions a possibility if not a probability. For ourselves we are inclined to favour a total outturn of 5,350,000 to 5,400,000 bales, as although in round numbers there is now an excess of 500,000 bales over the corresponding period last year, there is every likelihood, we think that at least 150,000 bales of this will be lost during the remainder of the season. Even accepting our estimate, however, the world's supply of cotton for the year will be increased by 800,000 from America, 200,000 from Egypt, and 200,000 from India, or 700,000 bales altogether, in the face of which it is scarcely probable, we think, that an average of to-day's prices will be maintained throughout the year, notwithstanding the improvement which has undoubtedly taken place in trade.

The total visible supply of Cotton for all Europe to date gives the following comparisons with two previous years :—

	1880.	1879.	1878.
Total supply of all kinds.	2,260,000	2,189,130	2,294,160
,, ,, Surats	191,000	180,160	125,750

,, Fair Dhollera ...	5½d.	4½d.	5 5/16d.

The American Crop figures to date compare as follows with the two previous seasons :—

	1880.	1879.	1878.

Bar silver in London remains unchanged at 52¾d. per oz.

EXCHANGE on London to-day has been steady, and partially 1-32d. higher. As usual on Mail day transactions have not been large, the amount of private paper offering having been small; but the banks have nevertheless shown more disposition to sell than buy, especially for future delivery. Calcutta advices, however, are not, and there is nothing here to warrant higher rates, at least in the immediate future. Closing quotations are :—

Bank Bills, on demand	1s. 8 5-32d.	per Rupee
Do. 3 months' sight...	1s. 8 5-16d.	,,
Credits 3 ,, ,, ...	1s. 8 7-16d.	,,
Documents 3 ,, ,, ...	1s. 8¼d.	,,
France 3 ,, ,, ...	2·15	,,

On Calcutta we quote demand drafts at 1-16 per cent. premium, 60 days' sight at ¼ per cent. discount.

GOVERNMENT PAPER continues very steady, although not particularly active. We quote :—Fours, Rs. 92½; Fours-and-a-half, Rs. 101¾ to ¾.

SHARES.—In Bank of Bombays there is no change, the quotation remaining at Rs. 696½, and Colaba Land shares are unaltered at Rs. 925. In Press Companies we notice an advance of Rs. 2 in Broach Cotton Co., Rs. 10 in East India, Rs. 15 in Albert Co. of Kurrachi, and Rs. 20 in Indian Press. Spinning and Weaving Cos. are somewhat irregular. We notice a decline of Rs. 2 in Anglo-Indian, Rs. 10 in Empress and Jewraz Balloo, Rs. 15 in Khandeish and Rs. 20 in Sholapur, whilst Madras United have advanced Rs. 10 and Sassoon Rs. 45 per share. Bombay Sawmills Co.'s shares have advanced from Rs. 460 to Rs. 500, while Landing and Shipping Co. of Kurrachee are Rs. 5 lower at Rs. 340.

COTTON to-day has been irregular market, a considerable business having been done in Omras for January-February delivery at about yesterday's rates, while in other descriptions we call the market dull, and Re. 1 per candy lower. Sellers still show little disposition to push business, but should the present tendency at home continue for any length of time, there is room here for a considerable drop in values as we are fully Rs. 5 per candy above home rates irrespective of commission. We now quote :—

Good Hingunghaut, ready	Rs. 258	per candy.
,, Omra, ,, ...	,, 241	,,
,, ,, February.....	,, 237	,,
,, ,, March	,, 232	,,
,, Broach, ,, ...	,, 246	,,
,, Dhollera April	,, 229	,,

SEEDS.—Linseed is dull and declining owing to adverse advices from home, and we quote ready Rs. 6-14 to Rs. 6-15 per cwt. Rapeseed continues neglected. Gingelly is firm at unchanged prices.

FREIGHTS for Liverpool are dull and declining at 37s. 6d. for early shipment, 35s. for late January and 32s. 6d. for February. For all other ports, however, the feeling is firm with a good enquiry. For Marseilles and Genoa the S. S. Borrowdale has been fixed for February loading at 42s. 6d. per ton, payable here, and the same quotation rules for Trieste and Venice.

PIECE GOODS in the bazaar are very steady with a fair enquiry for nearly all descriptions at in some instances an improvement of ¼ anna per piece; while there has also been more doing to arrive on a sterling basis.

COALS are steady owing to the absence of sellers, but we have not heard of any fresh transactions to-day.

MONDAY, JANUARY 12, 1880.

THE Government of India has somewhat tardily announced that the famous Press Rules for the "regulation" of special correspondents in Afghanistan have been placed in abeyance. Practically those obnoxious rules have been in abeyance from the first; they were never accepted by the press, or acted upon in a single instance, and there was not the remotest chance that they would ever be accepted or acted upon by those whom they most directly concerned. The Government of India, which published them upon the renewal of the Afghan war, grew ashamed of them when their offensive and impracticable character was pointed out. The responsibility for their form and style was repudiated with amusing promptitude. The Horse Guards drew them up, the Indian Press was informed, and they were sent out from home just as they were published here. And they were allowed to remain a dead letter. Only two non-combatant special correspondents proceeded to the theatre of war since the objectionable rules were published, and neither of them was asked to sign any undertaking to abide by their provisions. Now the rules are formally placed in "abeyance," and if that fact were made known without note or comment, the press and the public would doubtless allow them to descend to the limbo of miserable abortions in contemptuous silence. But the Government has thought fit to accompany the announcement with a brief but significant statement which indicates so plainly the persistence in certain quarters of that spirit of distrust of the press and of public opinion in which the discarded rules had undoubtedly their origin, that it is desirable to make one or two observations on the subject. In the first place it is noticeable that the Government expressly hand over the special correspondents to the discretion of the generals commanding, who are empowered "to place such "restrictions on the press correspondents in "Afghanistan as they may under the circum-"stances see fit to impose." And no one will be permitted to proceed to the front to undertake the duties of a press correspondent without obtaining a licence. We concede at once that the Government has full right to grant or withhold permission in such cases; otherwise individuals for whose bona fides there was no guarantee might accompany the army for occult purposes. And we concede also that the general commanding ought to have a certain degree of latitude allowed him in dealing with all who are within the zone of the operations, for the success of which he is responsible to the Government and the country. But we cannot see the object of cancelling the rules which have been so unanimously condemned if war correspondents are to be placed absolutely at the discretion of generals who may, and probably will, act in the spirit or even enforce the very letter of those rules. By the terms of this new notification the general in command is certainly empowered to do what he pleases in the matter. And the likelihood that he will make a bad use of his discretion is not at all diminished by the defence of the discredited rules which the Government of India quite needlessly enters upon while formally announcing that, for the present, they are to be "held in abeyance." "The rules," it is stated, "were drawn up at the Horse Guards "by highly experienced officers and admitted "nothing that under the circumstances of war "with a civilized country, is not considered "by high authorities to be absolutely needed "for the well-being of the army and the "success of military operations." The "high authorities" in question are not necessarily good authorities in a matter of this kind. No such rules were ever drawn up by any civilised Government for the observance of special correspondents in civilised war before. The nearest approach to them is to be found in the regulations which the Russians made for the better ordering of the hundreds of correspondents of all nationalities who followed the operations of the Czar's troops in the war against Turkey. But even those regulations, vexatious as they were, allowed Mr. Archibald Forbes and the other war correspondents who shared the hardships and dangers of the campaign to see and to describe what took place. Our Horse Guards' rules appeared to be expressly contrived to keep the correspondents from seeing anything, and Mr. Forbes, who only chafed under the Russian regulations, declared that he could never act under the stupidly obstructive provisions devised by the familiars of the Duke of Cambridge. It is quietly assumed, however, in the Government notification sent out from the Press Commissioner's office, that the Press Rules are in themselves well considered and necessary to the well being of the army and the success of military operations. We deny this assumption in toto. The rules were evidently drawn up in haste, and neither in matter or form showed any evidence whatever of care or special knowledge. They were conceived in ignorant dislike of free and impartial criticism, and the necessity—conceded on all hands—of providing against the disclosure of information likely to be of use to the enemy, was obviously of quite secondary consideration in the minds of those who drew them up. The insufferably insolent tone in which they were pitched rendered the animus of the redactors unmistakable.

The reason which the Government of India assigns for the non-enforcement of the rules during the continuance of the war in Afghanistan is not very creditable to its ingenuity of its members. "Experience has shown" say they, "that, in contending with an uncivilized enemy "in such a country as Afghanistan, the dangers "which the rules were framed to meet have so "much less force than was anticipated that it "has been found possible to relax the restric-"tions considerably without incurring risk." Who ever dreamed that the Afghans could profit by the letters of special correspondents in the Indian or the English newspapers? The Government of India has made many grievous miscalculations in this Afghan imbroglio, and it has been a prey to many delusions, but surely it never imagined that the safety of General Roberts's force would be endangered unless these Press Rules were promulgated and enforced? No; the purpose which the rules were intended to serve was political, and not military. Before the rules were brought forth a simple order was issued refusing to allow war correspondents to accompany the force moving upon Kabul. And the reasons alleged for the prohibition had no reference whatever to the possibility of any "danger" befalling the force from their presence. On the contrary, it was said that the "danger" would be incurred by the special correspondents, for whose safety the authorities thoughtfully considered themselves responsible. And as their absolute safety could not be guaranteed, and as they would require to be rationed and supplied with means of transport, they were not permitted to go to the front. All these excuses were frivolous, and no one was deceived by them for a moment. We refer to them now to point out that they were of a totally different kind from those put forward later on, and now again reiterated, as a justification for the famous Press Rules. The excuses and the rules were on different lines, but they had the same object—the exclusion of representatives of the press and the public from the theatre of war. And they attained that object with remarkable completeness. The two special correspondents who as time went on did somehow make their way to Kabul, were there on sufference, and inhaled the atmosphere of militarism there prevailing.

It is time to ask the Government of India whether it has any great reason to be satisfied with the result of its strenuous, and, on the whole, highly successful efforts to keep the public unacquainted with other than the official view of affairs in Afghanistan? General Roberts confesses that he was completely surprised by the extent and apparent suddenness of the uprising which drove him from Kabul and the Bala Hissar and shut him up for a fortnight in his camp at Sherpur. He relied, he says naively, on the sirdars in his camp for information, and they told him nothing about what was going to happen. Had the usual contingent of special correspondents been with the force in the Afghan capital, it is morally certain that whether General Roberts was surprised or not, the country at large and the Government itself would have been prepared for the movement which so nearly cost the over confident General his army. A commander surrounded by his staff is not likely to be well informed as to the movements of opinion amongst a sullen population. His officers, who all look to him to make or mar their fortunes, and who know well that their surest chance of promotion lies in seeing everything through his spectacles, are not at all likely to signalize themselves by noting symptoms that all is not going well, and that the General's plans are not quite so successful as he himself naturally loves to think. When he is confident they are confident; those whom he suspects, they are ready to hang or shoot. But they are not at all to be depended upon to gauge independently the effect on a silent and brooding population of their General's policy. If he arrests in a batch the leading men whose presence in his camp gave a colour to the declaration that the invading force represented the lawful government against lawless insurgents in arms against it, it would be quite hopeless to expect that they should bring to his notice and to that of the Government the magnitude of the political blunder that had been committed. And so of the subsequent steps that led up to the great rising of December, which found the General and his officers asleep in a fool's paradise. It is certain that special correspondents seeking their information in every quarter, using their eyes, and judging of what was going on all around by the light of varied experience, such as does not often find its way into the orderly room, would have seen some indication of the storm that was about to burst, and which so nearly overwhelmed the wholly inadequate force which the Government of India imagined was sufficient to garrison Kabul and keep Afghanistan in awe. The authorities imagined that they had scored largely against the press and the profane public which the press represents in excluding under one pretext or another professional journalists from Afghanistan. But the chief result of that experiment was to leave the Government and its favourite General without information which war correspondents would undoubtedly have contrived to obtain, and the want of which very nearly proved fatal to its army and its policy.

WE are given to understand that it is in contemplation to abolish the system of grades in the Political Department. The emoluments which at present attach to the grades will under the proposed system attach to appointments and be proportioned to their importance.

THE official accounts furnished by the Press Commissioner show again of Rs. 97,65,674 in opium over the estimate for nine months of the financial year, and a saving at the same time of Rs. 63,35,195 in estimated loss by exchange. On these two items alone, therefore, the revenue in nine months shows again of 1 crore and 61 lakhs. Were it not for the expenditure on the Afghan war all Licence taxes could be abolished and still a handsome surplus be shown for the coming year.

ON Saturday the railway from Rukh northwards had reached Mittri, a distance of 122 miles. This distance has been accomplished in ten days less than the time calculated upon.

LATEST INTELLIGENCE.

(FROM THE PRESS COMMISSIONER.)

A DURBAR OF INFLUENTIAL MEN AT KABUL.

CALCUTTA, JAN. 10.

KABUL, Jan. 9.—There is a report of the gathering of Kohistanis at Charikar.

Most of the Maliks are at Kabul, and Logaris are daily expected.

Faiz Mahomed Khan of Logar, and Padshah Khan of Ghilzai, have arrived in the city.

Sirdar Nur Mahomed has gone to Maidan and has made arrangements for the security of the road.

Some excitement continues amongst the eastern Ghilzais.

General Roberts has held a durbar in the cantonments, attended by many of the Kohistan Maliks and influential men from Logar, Padshah Khan of Tazis, and other Ghilzais, with several Hasaras, and all the Sirdars and principal men of Kabul, including Kazilbashur. Sir Frederick assured the assembled Maliks of the good will and friendly intentions of the British Government towards the people of Afghanistan, and their desire to respect their lives, property, and religion, and not to molest any one who will live at peace with them. He pointed out how unsuccessful the late rising had been, and the generosity and forbearance shown by Government in not punishing them more severely. He expressed his satisfaction that the more intelligent and well informed of the people of Afghanistan had taken no part in the recent disturbances, and thanked by name the various Sirdars who had remained in Sherpur and taken no part in the rising, and presented khillats to the Kohistanis who had remained with him. At their own request he appointed Sirdar Shahbaz Khan Governor of Kohistan, and he invited them to select some of their number to remain with him as a medium of communication. He then dismissed them to their homes.

THE DURBAR FOR THE KOHISTANIS.

CALCUTTA, JAN. 11.

General Roberts telegraphs from Kabul on Jan 10, that the durbar which was held yesterday for the Kohistanis went off well. All who had come in, under the terms of the recent amnesty and the proclamation and were present, seemed reassured; others will doubtless now follow their example.

The gathering of Mohmunds at Palosi across the Kabul river continues. Their object is uncertain.

Throughout the Kandahar province all is quiet.

Mir Afzul fled from Furrah to Persia. The local chiefs have plundered the Furrah fort, carrying off the ammunition.

Dr. Porter, Principal Medical Officer, died the previous day of pneumonia.

Large convoys of ammunition, treasure, warm clothing, and commissariat stores are now en route from Gandamak to Kabul.

Reports received from Pezwan state that all missing mail bags have been found. Letters now come regularly.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

DEPORTATION OF DAUD SHAH.

ALLAHABAD, KUTTRA, JAN. 10.

KABUL, Jan. 3.—Daud Shah is now on his way to India under an escort strong enough to make his escape impossible. He was placed under arrest when it became evident that we were blockaded in Sherpur, it being considered that he was a man of too great influence to remain at large even within Sherpur walls. At first he behaved well, but no Afghan can be trusted past a certain point. Of course, being once arrested we could not, when the danger was over, reinstate him to his old position as a trusted adviser.

Mustaufi is once more liberated and is doing good service. He declined all overtures made him by Mahomed Jan in forwarding the latter's letters to General Roberts.

KABUL, Jan. 4.—The first operations now to be undertaken are that the Jallalabad moveable column visits the Lugman valley to punish Asmatullah Khan.

The Gandamak column moves up Tizin valley, in the Hisarak direction, to harass local Ghilzais. The only chief of that district who has come in is Mahomed Sha Khan. Mahomed Jan is greatly disappointed at the Ghilzais on the line of communication who did not cut our reinforcements.

General Roberts's determination is to hold Lattabund at all costs, as it is a great stumbling block to the Ghilzais who otherwise might have besieged Jagdalak while Asmatullah Khan was blocking the road between that Kotal and Gandamak. The value of the Lattabund route has been strikingly proved by its enabling the Sherpur garrison to hold telegraphic communication with the solitary outpost which connected us with our supports on the road to India. But for this we would have been completely cut off from the Khyber division.

KABUL, Jan. 6.—Sherpur has resumed its quietness, while the bazaars in Kabul and the shops are gradually reopening. Foraging parties visit daily the villages near Kabul, from which further supplies come in and bhoosa is obtainable.

KABUL, Jan. 7.—A durbar of Kohistani chiefs will be held to-morrow; when such as were faithful to the British will be rewarded. The Kohistanis will be dismissed to their homes and hereafter send representatives to remain at Sherpur. As means of communication between the tribes and the British the Chiefs of Charikar and Istalif have come in.

JALLALABAD, Jan 9.—Colonel Macgregor is expected here to-day from Gandamak.

No further news has been received regarding the Mohmunds who were reported to be collecting mullahs. Certain Khans are still endeavouring to stir them up, but with little result. Asmatullah Khan is said to have left Lugman and proceeded to Kashmand. Pneumonia is prevalent. Captain Mansel, of the Rifle Brigade, joins General Ross as aide-de-camp.

Captain Rose, Quarter Master General's Department, Gawlior, rejoins the 41st Native Infantry.

THE effect of despatching the English Mail steamer from Bombay at seven o'clock on Saturday morning was seen at the weekly five o'clock parade of the Bombay Volunteers last Saturday afternoon, when only 34 file turned out. The complete field state was as follows:—2 field officers, 2 staff officers, 10 officers, 3 staff sergeants, 14 sergeants, 34 files — 68 men, 4 buglers and 27 bandsmen. It is to be hoped that the meeting this afternoon to protest against the Saturday evening arrangement will be well attended.

MR. BROWN and Mr. Rowton, who arrived in Bombay some days ago with the object of joining the legal firms of Messrs. Rimington, Hore, and Conroy and Messrs. Lynch and Tobin respectively, have not yet been in a position to be sworn as solicitors of the Bombay High Court. A difficulty has been raised as to the amount of stamp duty to be paid by each; and the question has been referred for the opinion of the Advocate General.

A Bombay Government Gazette Extraordinary states that His Excellency the Governor in Council has been pleased to nominate the following gentlemen to be Fellows of the University of Bombay:—Surgeon-Major T. Cody; J. Griffiths, Esq.; Surgeon-Major A. H. Hughes, M.D.; Rao Saheb Jayasatyabodhrao Tirmalrao Inamdar; D. MacDonald, Esq., M. B.; F. W. Stevens, Esq., C.E.; T. S. Tait, Esq., B.A., B.Sc.; Assistant Surgeon Visram Ramjee Ghollay.

A SPECIAL telegram from Kabul, dated Jan. 8 says:—The Darbar has been postponed as, more chiefs are expected. Musa Jan is now in Ghazni itself, which is reported to be in possession of the insurgents, who will make it their head-quarters and recruit from the districts about. Tahir Khan is now with Musa. As the Chiefs of the Besud and Nawar country inhabited by Hazaras are friendly to the British, and have visited us, it is likely we could count upon their aid in blocking the roads to Turkistan against any new army Mahomed Jan may raise. The Hazaras could also be invited to harass the insurgents on the Ghazni road near Wardak. If expeditions from Kandahar and Kabul were to close in upon Ghazni in the spring, the only line of retreat left open to the enemy would be towards the Zurmut country on the east, as the Hazaras would menace them on the west.

TELEGRAPHING from Jellalabad on the 8th inst., the special correspondent of the Pioneer says:—Sir Michael Kennedy arrived here yesterday, and proceeded onward this morning en route to Peshawur. He is accompanied by Brigadier-General Hugh Gough, Colonel Hogge, Major Hanna, and Captains Keane and Liddell. Sir Charles Wolseley and Colonel R. Williams have also returned from Kabul with Sir Michael's party. The 12th Bengal Cavalry arrived here also yesterday, escorting General Daood Shah and some other political prisoners who are proceeding to India. General Bright and most of his staff, with the members of the Court of Enquiry, yesterday visited the Daranta ford. The bodies of the Carabineers have not been recovered yet; search is being made for them. Sir Michael Kennedy appeared much more satisfied with the transport arrangements than on his former visit. Yesterday information was received that the Mohmunds were collecting at a place called Polosi to the north of the Kabul river. A convoy of sick and wounded is expected to arrive here in three or four days' time from Kabul.

INFORMATION comes from Kohima, under date the 8th inst., to the effect that Chesvejuma was attacked and burnt on the 3rd January by 250 men of the 42nd, 43rd, and 44th. There was slight resistance. One sepoy was slightly wounded. The enemy lost five killed. The force marches on Chedama and returns to Kohima on the 8th. The expedition will soon cease. No further active operations are contemplated.

THE Secretary to the Chamber of Commerce favours us with the following telegram, reporting on the state of the cotton crop in the Berars, from the Commissioner H. A. D., dated Amraoti, 9th January, 1880, circulated for the information of members of the Chamber:—"Cotton picking continues. Outturn below average."

THE following is a correct detail of the troops to form the reserve division under General Ross, so far as yet known at Peshawur:—Artillery.—D-A. Royal Horse Artillery, I-C. Royal Horse Artillery, L-5 Royal Artillery. Cavalry.—8th Hussars, 4th Bengal Cavalry, Central India horse. Infantry.—1-5th Fusiliers, 2-14th Foot, 1-25th Foot, 9th Native Infantry, 16th Native Infantry, 32nd Pioneers, 41st Native Infantry, 1st Goorkhas, 1st Madras Native Infantry, and 15th Madras Native Infantry. The constitution of the staff we have already published.

SIR ROBERT EGERTON and Staff leave Lahore to-day for a short visit to Delhi. The party will probably return to Lahore within ten days.

THE 27th Regiment M. N. I. has received orders by telegram from army head-quarters in Bengal to start at once from Cawnpore for Gwalior by rail and marching. It is to be replaced at Cawnpore by a Bengal Regiment from Rawil Pindi that requires a bracing climate. The 27th have been only three months at Cawnpore. The climate of Cawnpore is described as being very cold just now, and fever as still prevalent.

A CORRESPONDENT at Jubbulpore writes: "We are passing through as severe a winter as the 'oldest inhabitant' has experienced, ice having been collected last month in pots exposed to the night air. The cold appears to have been more than the plantain tree and some other young plants could stand, as they present the appearance of having passed through a flame; they are so completely withered and frost-bitten."

THE Directors of the Bank of Bengal at their meeting on Thursday made no alterations in the rates of interest or discount.

WITH reference to the question of the preparation of the railway accounts in future, it is announced that instructions have been issued by the Consulting Engineer to the Government of India, Railway Branch, to the railway authorities to the effect that from the 1st January, the date on which the Government has taken over the E. I. Railway, the accounts of the Jabbalpur line are not to be separated from those of the main line, as hitherto, presumably on the ground that the change will save a good deal of time and labour of the office establishment.

THE battery at Allahabad, which was to have gone home in the Malabar, but had to remain on account of the Malabar being despatched to the Cape, has now received orders to embark on board the Jumna. The battery leaves Allahabad to-morrow.

COTTON-PICKING in the Central Provinces is nearly completed, and the latest returns tell us that the outturn will be general, and in some districts as much as eight annas below the average.

THE separate judgeship of Jaunpur, which was abolished in Sir William Muir's time, and united with that of Benares, will be revived as the first of the judgeships under the new scheme. It will be constituted just as it was before the reduction took place. In a recent Gazette Mr. Leeds was appointed a Judge of the new grade; but as he is away in Europe on furlough, Mr. M. S. Howell, at present Magistrate and Collector of the second grade, will act at Jaunpur as Judge until further orders.

LIEUTENANT MILLS, 10th Native Infantry, has been appointed to officiate as Adjutant of the Calcutta Volunteers, vice Captain Hutchison, appointed to the staff of the reserve division.

IT appears from the traffic returns of the Indo-European Telegraph Department for November, 1879, received from the Superintendents of that Department, that the total rates on Indian and Trans-Indian messages transmitted to London from Kurrachee during November, 1879, were approximately £4,267. This amount subject to adjustment on receipt of the message returns from India and Persia, has been credited to the Common Purse Account, and that account has been provisionally debited with £6,150, representing the shares of the Indo-European Telegraph Department in the total receipts by all lines. The actual earnings of the line are higher than in the corresponding months of the three preceding years; but it is not quite so high as it was in October last. No delay took place in the average time occupied in the transmission of messages from India to England, via Russia and Turkey.

THE annual report of the School of Agriculture, Madras, for 1878-79, has been submitted to the Secretary of State, who regards with satisfaction the success of the institution, and is gratified to learn that the industry and good conduct of the students have been such as to merit an expression of general approbation from the lecturers.

THE Government of India's arrangement for placing the Nagpur Model Farm under the charge of the Assistant Conservator of Forests at Nagpur, has been approved of by the Secretary of State as a temporary measure.

As a personal arrangement, and in view of his exceptional qualifications, Mr. Carl Louis Schwendler, who holds the post of electrician, and the rank of second grade Superintendent in the Indian Telegraph Department, has been promoted to be an Extra Superintendent, of the first grade in that Department.

THE Secretary of State has sanctioned a proposal of the Indian Government to modify section 125 (b) of the Civil Pension Code so as to enable the Government to grant an extraordinary family gratuity without reference to the Home Government, provided such gratuity does not exceed Rs. 500.

SIR PHILIP CUNLIFFE OWEN has recently been in communication with the India Office, relative to the collection of the wild silks of India prepared by Mr. Thomas Wardle, F.C.S., F.G.S., &c., at the request of the India Office, for exhibition in the Indian Section of the Paris Exhibition of 1878. The collection attracted universal attention, and the international jury to show the value of this contribution unanimously awarded to India the grand medal of honour for silks as the highest distinction in their power to bestow. The collection was originally made at the urgent request of the Chamber of Commerce of Lyons which, being communicated to Mr. Wardle, that gentleman begged for permission to provide the collection at his own expense. It is now ready for transmission to Lyons, and contains a complete series of moths, cocoons, raw silks, thrown silks, woven, dyed and undyed silks, and either printed from native blocks in native colours, or in gold and silver. One result of the exhibition of this collection in Paris has been that tussur silk was on sale in the market previous to the exhibition at 2s. 6d. per lb., and now the average value per lb. is 7s., and the silk in Europe is getting scarce from the increasing demands for it chiefly from France. Mr. Wardle delivered an interesting lecture on the subject some time ago at the Society of Arts, which has been re-printed in pamphlet form with illustrations. To those interested in the cultivation of wild silk worms and the utilization of their products, Mr. Wardle's lecture will be found well worth perusal. It is published by "William Trounce, 10, Gough Street, Fleet Street, E. C., London."

NOTWITHSTANDING all the vigilance of the police and the military, says a correspondent, the Rumpa rebels are still at large, and whenever an opportunity offers itself to molest either a party of the force or others, they do not fail to do so. A number of rebels approached the village of Uraloor on the 27th ultimo with the view of apparently attacking the place, but opportunely a small military party having arrived, four of the gang were captured, the rest escaping under the leadership of Kakur Reddy. While one gang of rebels was engaging the attention of the military and the police in one direction, another gang, in large numbers, attacked the military escort near Bimavaram Ghat that was proceeding in charge of provisions from Kota to Gutwin under the command of Havildar Bahadoor Sing of the 10th Regiment. The escort consisted of about fifteen men. It was with difficulty that the escort managed to reach the village of Gutwin on the 28th December; there it was again surprised by the rebels and surrounded, but finding that the escort was capable enough to defend itself, the rebels retired after cutting off the water-supply. The position of the escort being considered perilous, another military party has been despatched to their support, who, it is hoped, will take the rebels by surprise, and either capture or disperse them. Information having been received that another gang of the rebels was drawing nigh to the village of Laddie, a detached party was ordered to meet them. The rebels becoming aware of this movement, turned their course eastward, and were being pursued by the troops. The commanding officer having received intimation that the notorious leader Chendriah with a large number of his followers are at the village of Gurtem, a military party has been sent after him.

ENCOURAGED, doubtless, by Mr. Labouchere's success in disputing in a court of law the power of the committee of the Beefsteak Club to expel him from that institution, Mr. Hannan, of Negapatam, is about to take proceedings against the Negapatam Book Club, for expelling him from membership. Mr. Waddy, of the Madras Bar, aided by a Madras solicitor, will prosecute on Mr. Hannan's behalf.

COLONEL BUCK, Commanding troops in Rumpa, has successfully established heliographic communication between Rajamundry and Aditugala.

SAYS the Bombay Review.—Mr. Adams of Bombay who will, we have little doubt, come to be known as the first inventor who has made practical application of solar heat as a motive power, has followed up his useful invention during his short furlough to Europe. He has obtained a patent for drying tea, which promises to be of very considerable use for our tea planting friends in northern India and Assam. Another and far more important patent he is maturing, is one for heating boilers on an altogether new principle, that is by collecting and accumulating heat in an "endless" system of tubes and chambers. In this machine the heat is to be generated at one end of the apparatus by solar rays, and at the other by kerosine oil or some other compact combustible. If this invention of Mr. Adams's can be applied to practical purpose, there is no doubt that it will be of immense value in India in economising fuel for the working of all kinds of machinery. For, whereas, hitherto solar heat could be utilised only while the sun shines, by this invention it can not only be utilized during the day, and in clear weather, but at night and during those cloudy intervals that are at once desired and feared by tea planters. Thus Mr. Adams proposes to store up heat, thereby putting a serious business aspect on the old gibe about 'bottling up sunbeams wherewith to grow cucumbers.' The industrial resources of India are long been hungering after motor forces independent of wood or coal fuel.

THE following from a correspondent, appears in the Bombay Review.—Only recently Bombay was delivered from the daily recurring danger of a catastrophe which would have wrought widespread destruction to life and property within the radius of a mile of the Ephinstone Circle. The busy thousands went through their diurnal occupations totally unconscious that there existed an agent in their neighbourhood which might at any time, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m., suddenly blot them out of existence, and bring down their heads a shapeless mass of ruins. The agent alluded to is gunpowder, and its location—the Grand Arsenal. While the merchants transacted their business and traders haggled over their bargains, gunners in close propinquity to them were engaged in filling teninch cartridges, with pebble powder. The scene of these operations was a bomb-proof building, with no windows, and only one door—massiveness and solidity are the characteristic of the structure. The aforesaid door is close to, and faces the powder store, the door of which faces the door of this bomb-proof apartment, which has the official designation of a "filling room." There were generally two barrels of powder open in this room; because one barrel contains too much for one cartridge, but not enough for two. We have therefore to contemplate what might have been the effect of an explosion in this room, the whole force of which must have rushed through the only mode of egress the door-way, and right into the powder store, where are kept numberless barrels of powder. The head turns giddy with thinking of the awfulness of the catastrophe which might have resulted from some act of imprudence on the part of the men employed in filling these cartridges. There came a time, however, when a certain conductor of the Ordnance Department abruptly declined to run the terrible risk of using this filling room, and requested to be allowed to use a tent for the purpose, and to report on the subject with a view to an application being made for sanction to construct a detached and properly built filling room. In vain the Officer in charge remonstrated, hinted at the awkwardness of the situation, and pointed out that the room had been used for many years, without any bad results, and that Government would not sanction the cost of building a filling room. His subordinate yielded not an inch, and requested to be allowed to use a tent. The request was at last granted, a report on the subject prepared, and soon after an estimate was called for, for a filling room, which was sanctioned, and the building constructed. It is, I believe, 25 feet square and is built of planks lightly nailed to wooden framing, and has a felt roof. The danger likely to result from an explosion is there minimised, as the building would offer no obstruction, but would yield in all directions. A filling room is one of the most important adjuncts to an Arsenal, and yet nearly all the Arsenals in India are wanting in this particular. Unless recently altered the Ahmedabad Arsenal has nothing but a bomb-proof room. It is no excuse to say that no accident has happened up to this time. We have only to consider the inevitably awful results of an explosion if ever it did happen, to urge us to use every possible precaution.

A CORRESPONDENT, writing from Tonk, on the 3rd instant to the Lahore paper says that about 2 p.m. of the same day, a large swarm of locusts reached that place. They settled in myriads on all the green crops about. After staying for upwards of an hour, they took flight again in a northerly direction.

THE Madras Mail hears that Sir Edwin Johnson has refused the Madras command simply on the score of delicate health.

FOR the Bombay Catholic Examiner the most vital chapter of news brought by the mail of the 19th December, comes from France in shape of M. Jules Simon's Report in the name of the Committee appointed by the French Senate to examine the Law adopted by the Chamber of Deputies, relative to Liberty of Higher Education. The Committee was composed of MM. Jules Simon, President; Foucher de Carcil, Secretary; Schoelcher, Daguenet, de Voisin-Laverniere, de Parieu, Buffet, Pelletan, Bertauld. Four of the members spoke for the Bill; three defended free Universities and Schools; the two remaining members, one of them the President himself, were in favour of the Government University, which they would save by means of Liberty, but not at the cost of Liberty; they would see it by strengthening it, but not, as the Bill proposes, by ridding it of its rivals. What will have gained by your Article VII? asked M. Jules Simon, four distinct times. "There are 27 congregations of unauthorised men in France, holding 88 houses and numbering 1,987 persons, more than half of them engaged in preaching. Their pupils receiving secondary education number 16,000. What will become of the masters and of the pupils after you have passed Article VII? A portion of the masters will go and establish themselves on your frontiers and attract to them their pupils, away from important and numerous audiences and from us republicans and liberals. Already they have a colossal house at Monaco. At this very moment, at Jersey, they are laying the foundations of another. So a part of the 1,987 will continue teaching, and the rest will turn preachers or tutors. Their activity will be modified; it will not be suppressed. What will you have gained?" The final conclusion of the Report is:—"By a majority of 6 votes against 2 and 1 abstaining the Commission has decided on proposing to the Senate to throw out the Bill altogether." The four members who voted for the entire Bill preferred to throw out the whole Bill rather than give up Article VII. Whereupon the Examiner piously observes:—"In this manner Heaven shows that the prayers and pilgrimages of myriads of believing Frenchmen have prevailed for a time, at least over the schemes of their unbelieving fellow-countrymen." But ought not some of the credit be given to M. Jules Simon?

A MOVEMENT has been set on foot at Oxford for sending out a mission to Calcutta. This is said to be in answer to an appeal from the Bishop of Calcutta to Oxford to send out missionaries to work especially among the educated natives of Calcutta. To avoid the waste of energies which Dr. Duff pointed out was the result of scattered work, it is proposed that the members of this mission shall live together as a community, bound by the ties of a common work and common food, from which, however, any members may withdraw at pleasure. The Bishop of Calcutta approves the plan, and provides a temporary home. The first detachment of the mission is to sail in October, 1880. Three graduates have already volunteered, but it is hoped others may join; and the committee wish to raise a sum at least 600*l.* per annum for the support of the mission. Subscriptions, it is suggested, should be for a term of five years.

WE learn from an English paper that a trade is likely to arise between Europe and this country in the fruit of the mowah tree. A Mr. Christy, in England, has received a considerable consignment of this new article of food, and has received very favourable accounts of its qualities in fattening hogs in Gloucestershire, where it has been tried by Mr. E. Lookwood, F.L.S., who declares the flavour of the bacon improved by feeding with mowah. The analysis by the eminent French chemist, Mons. A. Petit, gives 50 per cent. of sugar, and it therefore is worthy the attention of keepers of all kinds of stock. Mr. Christy especially recommends it for pigs, poultry, and bees.

THEFT OF AN IDOL.

THE well-known family of the late Baboo Gocool Mohun Mitter (of Calcutta) were startled early in the morning of Sunday last to hear that their family idol "Muddun Mohun," which had remained in the thakoorbaree for upwards of a century and a quarter, had been stolen by a Coriya Brahmin, named Mahadeb Pandah. The Idol "Muddun Mohun" originally belonged to the Rajah of Bistapore, who, about 125 years ago, pledged it with the late Baboo Gocool Mohun Mitter for a sum of Rs. 25,000. Some time after the Rajah wanted more money, and a further advance of Rs. 25,000 was made. Subsequent to these advances, the Rajah wanted back the idol, but Baboo Gocool Mohun Mitter offered to give a gold idol in lieu of it, which the Rajah declined to accept, and had recourse to law. The matter eventually terminated by Baboo Gocool Mohun Mitter paying the Rajah a further sum of Rs. 50,000 in satisfaction of all claims. The idol was, therefore, purchased for the exceedingly large sum of Rs. 1,00,000. It is an eight-metalled idol, and its intrinsic value is about Rs. 200. Having become possessed of the idol, Baboo Gocool Mohun Mitter made another idol the godess "Radica," wife of "Muddun Mohun." These were beautifully decked with ornaments, and placed in the thakoorbaree (temple) at 1, Gocool Mitter's Lane. The idols have a zemindari, which yields Rs. 5,000 annually, as also a garden which profits about Rs. 100 per annum. The earnings are spent in the celebration of poojahs. Their present possessor is Baboo Judoonauth Mitter, grandson of the late Baboor Gocool Mohun Mitter. The prisoner under the pretext of performing poojah, gained admittance into Baboo Judoonauth's house and concealed himself. At the dead of night he broke into the temple, and stole the idols together with their ornaments. He buried the goddess "Radica" in a vacant house, situated at 1, Bonomee Sircar's Street, and was proceeding with the "Muddun Mohun" along Chitpore Road when he was challenged by a native serjeant, arrested and taken to the thanna. The local Inspector, Baboo O. C. Dutt, having identified the idol as the property of Baboo Judoonauth, took the prisoner to his house, and ascertained that as usual after the performance of the poojah the door of the temple had been locked by the man in charge, Mokund Lall, and that the prisoner stopped in the Baboo's house by falsely representing to one of his servants that he was privileged to do so whenever he came to offer poojah, and stole the idols in the manner above described. The prisoner awaits his trial.—Indian Daily News.

The damage to the hut and Graham and Co's chowkey is estimated at Rs. 15.
